

Alexandra Paul

Synthetic Selection of Enhanced Therapeutic Aptamers. The project will develop a novel method for the discovery of modifications which increase aptamer binding efficacy. The known aptamer that will be modified binds to EGFR, which in cancer cells is the protein that causes cell growth and division.