

TIE2016 Programme

1-3 September, 2016

University of Kent, Canterbury

All sessions and social events take place in Grimond Lecture Theatre 2 (GLT2) unless otherwise stated

1ST September: General oral sessions

8:30 – 11:30 Registration, Grimond Foyer
8:45-9:00 WELCOME
9:00-10:00 Plenary	Aditi Lahiri Asymmetries in phonological cliticisation: diachrony and experimental evidence
10:00-11:00 Regular session	Does prosody influence thematic role assignment during real-time spoken language comprehension? Julia Marina Kröger, Katja Münster & Pia Knoeferle
Chair: Caroline Féry	The prosody of topics in two varieties of Swedish: Effects of contrast and referential status Gilbert Ambrazaitis & Anastasia Karlsson
	The intonation of two-argument VP I-Topics in German Anya Lunden, Vera Lee-Schoenfeld & David Kilpatrick
11:00-11:30 Coffee break, Grimond Foyer
11:30-13:00 Regular session	The independence of the timing of tones and tone-bearing units: a study on Thai Robin Karlin
Chair: Carlos Gussenhoven	Effect of segmental composition on f0 peak alignment of Cantonese rising tones Ricky KW Chan & Yang Li
	Mandarin tonal asymmetries in perception Beinan Zhou, Kai Alter, Sandra Kotzor & Aditi Lahiri
	Syllable weight and tone in South Mara Bantu languages Lotta Aunio
13:00-14:00 Lunch, Grimond Foyer
14:00-15:30 Regular session	Intonation and pragmatic markers as encoders of commitment and agreement epistemic operations: the case of Catalan and Friulian Pilar Prieto & Paolo Roseano
Chair: Gilbert Ambrazaitis	The relative weight of the acoustic and intonational cues involved in verbal irony detection in French Santiago González-Fuente, Pilar Prieto & Ira Noveck
	Tones and tunes in Tianjin Mandarin Cong Zhang
	Reassessment of the frequency code: prosody of polite requests in Catalan Iris Hübscher, Joan Borràs-Comes & Pilar Prieto
15:30-16:00 Coffee break, Grimond Foyer
16:00-18:00 Poster session I, Grimond Foyer
17:30-20:00 Wine reception, Aphra Foyer (in Grimond Building)

2ND September: Oral sessions on conference theme “Tone and Intonation in L2”

9:00-10:00 Plenary	Annie Tremblay Learning to use intonational cues in second-language speech segmentation
10:00-11:00 Regular session Chair: Gorka Elordieta	The production of contrastive focus in L2 Spanish Covadonga Sánchez-Alvarado & Meghan E. Armstrong Perception of contrastive focus by L2 learners Shinobu Mizuguchi, Koichi Tateishi & Tim Mahrt Using L+H* accents to predict referents in the L1 and the L2: The role of exposure Anouschka Foltz
11:00-11:30 Coffee break, Grimond Foyer
11:30-13:00 Regular session Chair: Jane Setter	Cross-language effects on the perception of non-native tonal contrasts Yung-hsiang Shawn Chang, Yao Yao & Becky Huang Illusory vowels and illusory tones in the perception of consonant clusters by monolingual Chinese Mandarin speakers Quanwen Guan How do Chinese- speakers of English process pitch in English words? An ERP study of L1-tone effects on L2-intonation Marta Ortega-Llebaria & Kim B. Muth Distinct listening patterns for cross-language listeners in the perception of sandhied tones in the Nanjing dialect Xin Li & René Kager
13:00-14:00 Lunch, Grimond Foyer
14:00-15:30 Regular session Chair: Marta Ortega-Llebaria	Do Chinese-English bilinguals attrite their L1 tones in perception and production in an L2 speaking environment? Xiangjie Cao The Basque substratum in the intonation of Spanish in the Basque Country and the influence of linguistic attitudes Gorka Elordieta, Magdalena Romera & Lucía Masa Prosodic patterns of code-switching in Spanish-Basque bilinguals Ann M. Aly Continuation rises in Maltese English and influence from Maltese Alexandra Vella, Sarah Grech & Luke Galea
15:30-16:00 Coffee break, Grimond Foyer
16:00-18:00 Poster session II, Grimond Foyer
From 19:00 Conference dinner at the Canterbury Cathedral Lodge

3rd September: Oral sessions on conference theme “interactions of tone and intonation with other components of prosody”

9:00-10:00 Plenary	Janet Fletcher Prosodic signatures in Australian languages – intonation and beyond
10:00-11:00 Regular session	Prosody encodes clause type anticipation: Evidence from Mandarin Stella Gryllia, Y. Yang, J. S. Doetjes & L. L. Cheng
Chair: Sónia Frota	The role of prosodic structure in the word tonology of Lhasa Tibetan Jonathan Keh Sheng Lim
	Devoicing in post-focal constituents in Donegal Irish Amelie Dorn & Ailbhe Ni Chasaide
11:00-11:30 Coffee break, Grimond Foyer
11:30-13:00 Regular session	The phrasing of lexically unaccented words in Lekeitio Basque Gorka Elordieta & Elisabeth Selkirk
Chair: Katalin Mády	High pitch signals word onsets for German 9-month-olds: evidence for a pitch segmentation strategy Katharina Zahner, Muna Schönhuber, Janet Grijzenhout & Bettina Braun
	The role of lexical tones in acquisition of word-object associations in Chinese infants Xiaobei Zheng & Xiangzhi Meng
	When prosody matters: Emerging word segmentation abilities in European Portuguese learning infants Joseph Butler, Cátia Severino, Marina Vigário & Sónia Frota
13:00-14:00 Lunch, Grimond Foyer
14:00-15:30 Regular session	Text-tune adjustment in Tunisian Arabic Sam Hellmuth
Chair: Elisabeth Selkirk	Prominence-lending boundaries: pauses and their magnifying power K. Mády, F. Kleber, U. D. Reichel, Á. Szalontai, A. Kohári & A. Deme
	Brain response to intonational phrase structure is purely prosody-driven Barbara Leone-Fernandez, Rita Jerónimo, Shuang Lu, Susana Correia, Marina Vigário, Kai Alter & Sónia Frota
	Effects of prosodic and gestural prominence on words recall in first and in second languages Olga Kushch, Alfosno Iqualada & Pilar Prieto
15:30-16:00 Coffee break, Grimond Foyer
16:00-17:00 Plenary	Laura Dilley Genesis of rhythm: The power of distal structures to shape prosodic forms
17:00-17:15 STUDENT AWARDS & CLOSING

POSTER SESSION I (1ST SEPTEMBER, 16:00-18:00)

1. A cognitive approach to compound and nuclear stress
Marcel Schlechtweg
2. The acoustics of German vocative chants: Description and cross-linguistic comparison
Sergio Quiroz
3. A cross-linguistic exploration of the intonation of contrastive topics
Margaret Zellers, Nadja Schauffler & Sabine Zerbian
4. Phonological tone and phonetic intonation in Henan Mandarin: Perceptual evidence
Carlos Gussenhoven
5. Assessment of information status in British and Canadian English by Canadian listeners
Saskia A.J.M. Versteegen, Juhani Järvikivi, Vincent J. Porretta & Aoju Chen
6. Cross-dialectal prosodic accommodation: Evidence from Andalusian Spanish in Asturias
Aurora Troncoso-Ruiz & Gorka Elordieta
7. Decoding the pragmatic meaning of polite requests through prosody and facial gestures: a study with 3-year olds
Iris Hübscher, Laura Wagner & Pilar Prieto
8. Documenting Tucumán Spanish: native patterns versus language contact prosodies
Virginia Terán & Marta Ortega-Llebaria
9. mausmooth: Eyeballing made easy
Francesco Cangemi & Aviad Albert
10. Foreign Accent in Spanish Intonation
Andrea Pešková & Trudel Meisenburg
11. Gender differences in the perception of speech prosody and visual prosody in L2
Suzanne Verheul, Adriana Hartmann, Roselinde Supheert & Aoju Chen
12. Interplay of tone and intonation in Esan yes/no questions
Evarista Ofure Ikoyo-Eweto
13. Intonation and phrasing in Brazilian Portuguese: implications for comma usage?
Geovana Soncin
14. Intonational patterns of interrogative sentences of Brazilian Portuguese
Caroline Carbonari Rosignoli & Flaviane Romani Fernandes-Svartman
15. On the effect of modality and speaking style for Mandarin tones classification by L2 Learners
Yueqiao Han

PTO

16. Pauses and pitch contours in spontaneous speech processing: Evidence from Russian
Yulia Nigmatulina & Elena Riekhakaynen
17. Phonetic features of Luxembourgish intonation
Judith Manzoni
18. Prosodic deviations of French learners of L2 English
Nuzha Moritz
19. Prosodic realization of Colombian Spanish vocatives
Clara Huttenlauch, Ingo Feldhausen & Bettina Braun
20. Prosodic realization of dual focus in French, German and Mandarin
Caroline Féry, Bei Wang & Emilie Destruel-Johnson
21. Prosodic typology in New Englishes: Prominence and phrasing in educated Indian English
Olga Maxwell
22. Realization of the French initial accent: Stability and individual differences
Pauline Welby, Roxane Bertrand, Cristel Portes, Corine Astésano

POSTER SESSION II (2ND SEPTEMBER, 16:00-18:00)

1. Sentential modification and theories of tone three sandhi
Chin-Ting Jimbo Liu & Li-mei Chen
2. Spreading of tonal accent in West Norwegian, categorical or gradual?
Gjert Kristoffersen
3. Studying French mapping of syntax to prosody in natural speech
Fabián Santiago, Camille Dutrey, Martine Adda-Decker
4. Teasing apart lexical and phrasal stress in Hungarian and German
Andreas Windmann, Ádám Szalontai, Katalin Mády & Petra Wagner
5. The acquisition of English intonational features by German secondary school learners
Alexander Fay
6. The impact of animacy and rhythm on the linear order of conjuncts in child language
Isabelle Franz, Gerrit Kentner & Frank Domahs
7. The Influence of the mother tongue on rhythm perception
Sumio Kobayashi
8. The interaction between pauses and F0 in anaphor production in Mandarin strictly parallel structures
Luying Hou, Bert Le Bruyn & René Kager
9. The prosodic effects of focus in the Irish of Cois Fharraige
Maria O'Reilly & Ailbhe Ní Chasaide

PTO

- 10. The role of tapping in improving connected speech comprehension of a non-native variety of English
Ewa Wanat, Rachel Smith, Jane Stuart-Smith, Caroline Palmer
- 11. The role prosody plays in disambiguation: A study on Mandarin
Y. Yang, S. Gryllia, J. S. Doetjes & L. L. Cheng
- 12. Tonal cues to topic and comment in spontaneous Japanese and Mongolian narratives
Anastasia Karlsson, David House & Jan-Olof Svantesson
- 13. Two kinds of metrical shift observed in apparent exceptions to the text-setting rules for English
Noriko Hattori
- 14. When how means what: (Dys)prosody in Parkinson's Disease
Pedro Oliviera, Marisa Cruz, Marina Vigário, Selene Vicente, Rita Cardoso, Isabel Guimarães, Joaquim J. Ferreira, Serge Pinto & Sónia Frota
- 15. Interaction, instruction & intonation: Does more access to meaning interfere with production?
Jessica Craft
- 16. The influence of non-tone English on the speech rhythm of tone language Setswana in the speech of Setswana-English bilingual children
Boikanyego Sebina, Jane Setter & Clare Wright
- 17. Comprehension of English intonation by Chinese EFL learners
Yiling Chen, Ghada Khattab & Jalal Al-Tamimi
- 18. The importance of being civil: Intonational variability in Greek
Mary Baltazani, Evia Kainada & Amalia Arvaniti
- 19. Sensitivity to pitch contrasts in second language perception and storage
Yuki Asano
- 20. Rising intonation in statements of German speakers of English as a foreign language
Stefanie Flaig & Sabine Zerbian
- 21. Phonetic cues to semantic focus in Estonian: Is there any interaction between word and phrase-level prosody?
Nele Salveste