

Research Design Service South East

South East Primary Care and Community Health Research:

The RDS SE wishes to help connect primary care and community health researchers across Kent, Surrey and Sussex.

As part of a national service, RDS SE can support researchers working in this area by:

- providing advice on research design and funding opportunities
- organising events
- facilitating collaboration between researchers and research groups.

If you are involved in primary care or community health research in the South East, we would like to hear from you - we would really value your input!
